CAPTURING YOUR SPECIAL DAY!

WHAT I COVER

Getting ready: I've found the best time to show up is when the bride is getting her hair and makeup done. This allows for all your gorgeous detail shots—including rings, shoes, dress, tuxes, and more—as well as the bride getting into her dress, helped by her favorite women.

First look: Many couples choose first looks as a way to ease their nerves and spend precious alone time together before the wedding officially begins. If this is in your plans, I'll capture the exciting first moments, then spend time capturing portraits and candids of the two of you.

Family photos: What's a wedding without every possible combination of family photos? I'll make sure we capture everyone that matters most to you, but feel free to provide a shot list if that helps you feel more comfortable! If you choose a first look, we can capture these before the ceremony. Otherwise, we'll spend 30 minutes while your guests head to the reception.

Bridal party photos: We'll be sure to capture your stunning bridal party, from serious poses to joyful celebrations.
Ceremony: From your teary walk down the aisle to exchanging vows and rings to sealing your union with a kiss, I'll capture all these moments.

Reception: While you're making toasts, delicately smashing cake, and dancing the night away, I'll be clicking away!

Send off: Many of my couples choose a unique send off, with sparklers, bubbles, or balloons. I'm happy to help you execute and capture the exciting moment you head off into your future!

Length of coverage: here's where video differs from photo. For video, the rate determines the length of edit. An average invest includes a 3-5 minute highlight edit!

Audio: I mic up the groom & father of the bride during first looks, groom and officiant during the ceremony and those giving of toasts!

Getting ready: I arrive when the bride is getting her hair and makeup done. During this, I get external shots, details—including rings, shoes, dress, tuxes, and more—as well as the bride getting into her dress, helped by her favorite women.
